

Jednoduchá instalace

- A black smartphone and its packaging are shown on a wooden surface. The packaging is open, revealing the screen protector and other accessories.
- The screen protector is being removed from its clear plastic packaging. The protector is white with a blue and yellow border.
- A close-up view of the screen protector, showing its white surface and blue and yellow border.
- The smartphone is placed inside the clear plastic packaging. The screen protector is still inside the packaging.
- A hand is peeling off the white protective layer from the screen protector. The protector is still inside the packaging.
- The screen protector is being pressed onto the smartphone screen. The white protective layer is still visible.
- The screen protector is fully applied to the smartphone screen. The white protective layer is still visible.
- A hand is smoothing the screen protector onto the smartphone screen. The white protective layer is still visible.
- The final view of the smartphone with the screen protector applied. The white protective layer is still visible.